Jan Game - Jumpers Pairs

A team of two dogs and two handlers. The first dog starts on the white course.

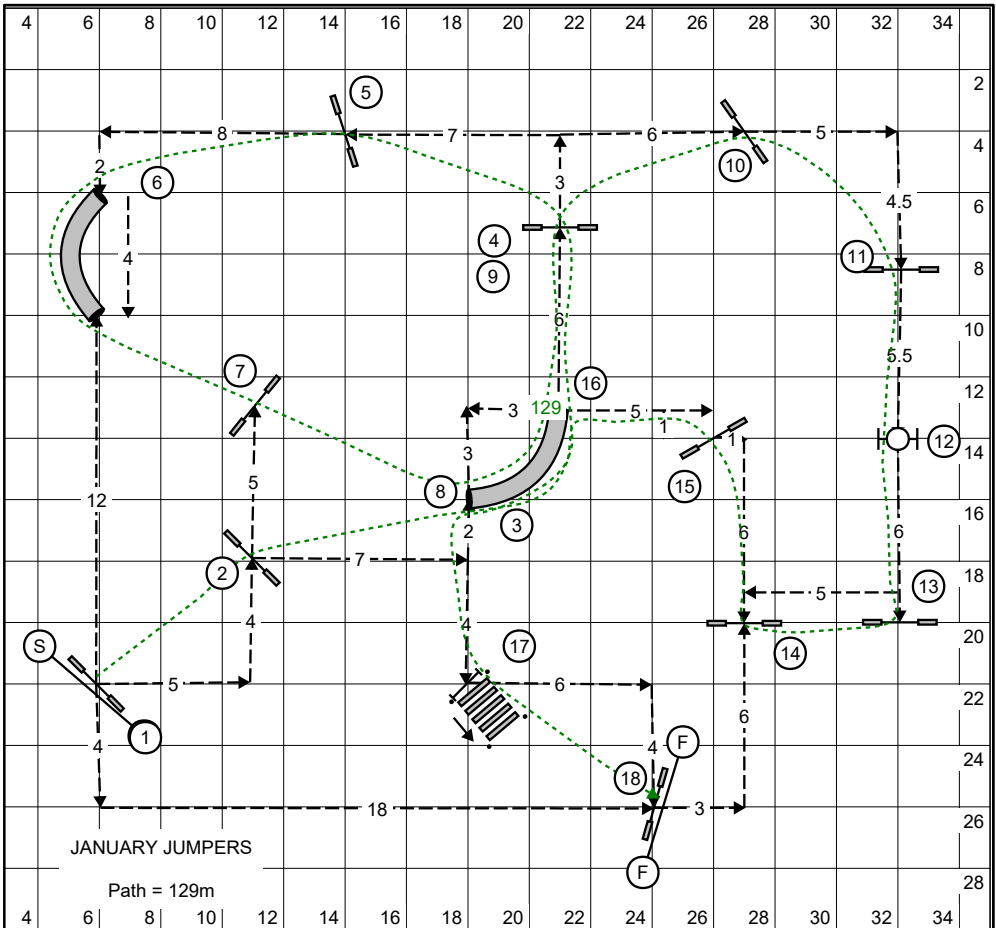

Once this dog has completed the #9 jump the second dog starts the black course. This course finishes on #8 black.

The faults and time for the total run is added together and both dogs get the same score.

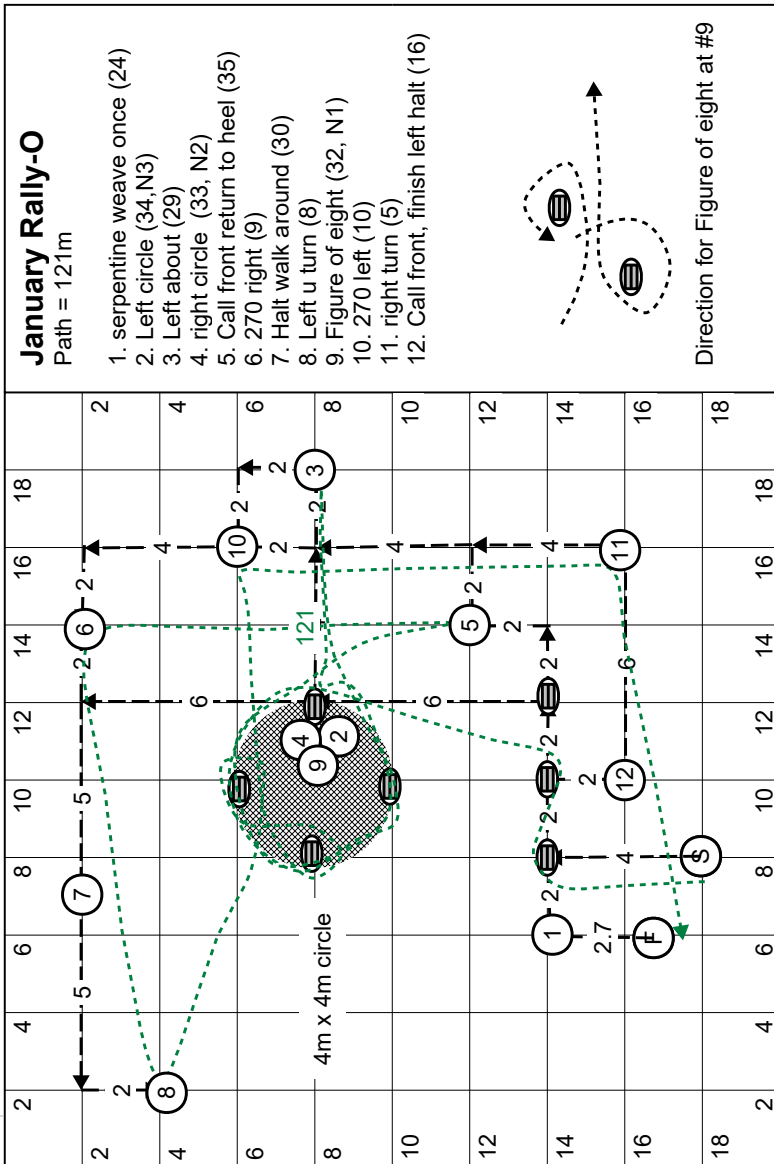

Note: Link members can pair with non-Link members to get a score for the month.

Hanging in the Hutt

With Spring showing its head – or heads in the case of daffodils and tulips – early, the weather at Hutt’s show was wet and warm. This meant that even when the sky opened the rain was light and lasted just long enough for you to pack up your chair, table, shade cloths, training gear and anything else you wanted to keep dry. Once you were seated in the car the rain stopped. Then you could have the fun of getting it all out again.

I like going to the Hutt. They have great grounds with a river and loads of space to walk dogs. Occasionally one has trouble accessing these grounds due to council keys and things – once the guy turned up on a scooter to unlock because his car broke down. Last time no one turned up or answered the phone so the other gate had to be used and I guess some discussions were had.

The theme for this show was, I think, dogs. No, just joking, cause it is always dogs. The theme was, slightly less obviously, puppies. Kim had her brand spanking new, just picked up yesterday, puppy there and there was much oohing and aaaahing and no shortage of babysitters. Sorry, make that puppy holders. Someone commented to me that Kim should get a bigger dog to which I say “No, no, no...” in a less tuneful re-hash of Amy Winehouse. Personally I prefer her to stay in the small dog classes, especially with the new splits coming, because there are quite enough good handlers in the 600s already.

In addition to Kim’s puppy, Wayne had a newish puppy to be admired and there were the older, suddenly grown up looking, puppies to check out. Fiona’s Tahi is looking very mature for his age and Libby’s is also growing fast. Sharon’s is definitely looking more grown up, even if he has not grown up much.

Around looking at puppies – thinking, look don’t touch, cause you can’t have one - I was remembering past Hutt shows and thinking that the numbers were a little down but that that was a good thing. Running big shows is hard on the club concerned and lower numbers acn mean fewer clashes and less pressure on club members. After all we, like the puppies, are getting older too.

The infamous Hutt lockdown show came mind. I went to bed Saturday camping for the Sunday and woke up to find the show was cancelled and we all had to pack up and go home because we were going into lockdown. Very disappointing for all.

Especially my friend Christine who drove down Saturday night and set up her tent to be ready for Sunday and “didn’t even get a run.” She was quite peeved off. I could tell this because she told me several times how peeved off she was.

This show had no lockdown pressures but one minor ribbon presentation confusion. On Saturday there was a ribbon presentation, which, after so long of no having them so as to avoid super spreading COVID along with the ribbons, was nice. On Sunday Bow actually got second in the unsplit B and we waited a while for the presentations only to finally be told there wasn’t one so to just go get our ribbons from the club house. Huh. Poor club members inside trying to sort things so they made sense to us randoms all trying to collect prizes. Poor Sunday winners who did not get a line up if they wanted one. Still, as I said before, minor. Just the club easing the pressure of trying to pack up and, given our early finish, wanting to let everyone get home with some time in hand. I suspect a presentation might have taken a similar length of time though.

Thank you Hutt for the enjoyable puppy themed show. They are a lot of work before as well as during and we recognise that we are all volunteers. Looking forward to the next one.
